The Knights' day

A photographer for the city of Louisville photographs officials of the Knights of Columbus receiving a certificate from Louisville Board of Aldermen president Steve Magre proclaiming Oct. 10 "Knights of Columbus Day" in Louisville. State K of C deputy James Fink received the certificate at the German-Paristown Neighborhood Center on East Kentucky Street, where K of C units have helped fund a senior citizens nutrition center.